

Project Management

Ross Francis Consulting provides a range Project Management services for maintenance contracts and new capital projects as well as the development of an Asset Management culture through the integration of operations and maintenance into the early development of capital projects.

Project Commissioning

Ross Francis Consulting will manage the complete phasing & handover from construction to operations for any new project. Advantages of this independent senior level management include:

- Manage all stakeholders input in accordance with schedule
- Ensure all priorities are taken into account
- Ensure plant is successfully commissioned in all aspects
- Coordinate all internal & external resources effectively
- Ensure problems are identified and effectively resolved
- Establish safety & environmental integrity

In addition we can provide specific input to support commissioning such as procedures manual development, detailing of specific commissioning processes and procedures, hand-over documentation management and asset change management.

Project Design Review

By appropriate and timely involvement of Ross Francis Consulting in the early phases of a capital project to undertake an Maintainability & Operability Reviews so that optimum results can be achieved from day one. Your project and subsequent operation will benefit by:

- Independent review of design by experienced plant engineer
- Early identification of layout inadequacies
- Ensuring plant is designed for safe & ergonomic operations
- Ensuring design problems are identified and effectively resolved
- Minimising subsequent ongoing costly upgrades & modifications
- Preventing operations living with poor efficiency and high
- Optimised asset life cycle costs

Ross Francis Consulting will tailor services to meet client requirements in the areas of commissioning, design review, process & procedures development, change management, outsourced maintenance contract strategy, design management & control, and training coaching and mentoring for any aspect of your project in an asset management context.

Contact Ross Francis Consulting now to discuss your Project Management and Asset Management requirements: info@rossfrancis.com.au

